DATA FITTING BY USING DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS

MINKYU KWAK

Department of Mathematics, Chonnam National University, Gwangju, Korea

In this talk, we introduce a rather simple data fitting method by using differential equations. The usual nonlinear least square method is reduced to solve a linear least square method after a simple observation. It turns out to be quite effective.

The paper is supported by NRF.(email: mkkwak@jnu.ac.kr)